POLI'S NEW BALTIMORE STOCK COMPANY A HIT Brilliant Audience Witnesses Premier Appearance in "Under Cover." Mr. Poli Given Ovation. Special to The Washington Herald. Baltimore, April 4.—Sylvester Z. Poli, proprietor of a chain of theaters and stock company in the United States, never received a more hearty greeting in his career than was afforded him and his new Baltimore stock company at the Academy of Music last night. A brilliant audience, testing the capacity of the big playhouse, assembled to view the Poli Players' premiere in "Under Cover," and not only applauded the players, but joined in singing James T. Fletcher's new song, "Welcome to Baltimore, Mr. Poli." The number was planned as a solo. "Under Cover" was given a most elaborate production under direction of Arthur Ritchie, and the company, headed by Richard Buhler and Miss Florence Rittenhour, is given unstinted praise by the local dramatic reviewers. Mr. Poli, accompanied by his beautiful wife, occupied one of the stage boxes and also participated in the reception and banquet which followed the performance in the big hall of the Academy of Music. Refreshments were served and there were flowers and other souvenirs for the ladies. The success of the Poli opening was due in a great measure to the efforts of General Manager James Thatcher.
